Kentucky River Hay Farm for Sale.

BEING anxious to remove to a different part of the State, and join my relatives there located, I offer for sale my FARM on the Kentucky river. My farm consists of about Four Hundred and Twenty-five Acres; All bottom and level beach land, and well watered; 200 acres cleared, and the residue can, at a small cost, be cleared and reduced to perfect cultivation. The 200 acres can be put into Timothy at once, and the residue in a few years. I will sell at a fair price—such as will enable the purchaser to pay for the same, from the products of the farm, in at least seven years.

My farm is bounded by the Kentucky river, immediately opposite the mouth of the Salmon, and about three miles above the Hay Farm of the Hon. Mason Brown.

I refer any person who wishes to purchase to the Hon. Mason Brown, who will give him candid information in regard to the same, and to the capacity of the farm to pay for itself in a few years.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

DISSOLVE THE UNION.

BY GEORGE W. CUTLER.

[When Henry Clay was asked when he would be in favor of a dissolution of the Union he answered, "Never, never, never!"]

You ask me when I'd read the scroll
Our father's name is written o'er—
When I would see our flag unfurl
Its mingled stars and stripes no more;
When with a worse than felon's hand,
Or felon councils, I would sever
The Union of this glorious land—
I answer, "Never, never, never!"

When you can find in lawless night,
Where Cato's tomb is marked in stone,
Where burning cities glid the night,
Where cannon smoke obscures the day,
In towns deserted, fields of ground
Abandoned by the faithful plow,
Security, hope, peace profound,
The blessing Heaven vouchsafes you now.

Then, think ye, I would brook to see
The emblems of our land no more;
Borne, piecemeal, o'er the distant sea,
Torn trampled by a frenzied throng;
Divided, measured, parcelled out,
Tamelessly surrendered up forever
To gratify a lawless mob
Of traitors—"Never, never, never!"

On yonder lone and lovely steep,
The sculptor's art, the builder's power,
A hand-mark of the soldier's sleep
Have reared a lofty funeral tower;
There it will stand until the river
That rolls beneath shall cease to flow;
Ay, till that hill itself shall quiver
With Nature's last convulsive throes.

Upon that column's marble case,
Its shaft that soars into the sky,
There still is room enough to trace
The list of millions who have died;
And I would cover all its height
And breadth, before the hour of shame,
Till space should fail whereon to write
Even the initials of a name.

Nay, I would haste to swell the ranks,
Direct the fire or lead the way,
White battle swept the rifted ranks,
And here the severed flags away—
Fall bleeding on the doubtful strife
Beneath the motto of my sires,
And draw my latest breath of life,
Before the Union flag expires.

Dissolve the Union! Nay, remove
The last asylum that is known
Where patriots find a brother's love,
And truth may shelter from a throne!
Give up our hopes of high renown,
The legacy our fathers will'd,
Tear our victorious eagles down,
Before their mission is fulfilled!

Dissolve the Union! while the earth
Has yet a tyrant to be slain?
As well repress the lightning's birth,
Or stop the heavings of the main!
Dissolve the Union! God of Heaven
We know too well how much it cost—
A million heroes' blood has been
Before the golden link is lost!

Mrs. Gore.

The London Times says of this lady:

Of her personal history but little is known to the public than that she was the wife of Charles Arthur Gore, of the first lineage; that at the time of her death she had attained the age of sixty-one; and that she was one of the most brilliant women of her generation, whose talk overflowed with epigram and jest, and whose most commonplace remarks were more witty than the best wit of others. Her literary career is better known, although she departs from among us at a time when it is least appreciated. Her descriptions of fashionable life are not so highly estimated now as they were when that species of novel had a certain amount of originality, nor as they will be hereafter, when, through the mere lapse of time, her descriptions will attain somewhat of the dignity of historical pictures. For the moment we are tired of fashionable novels, and inclined, perhaps, to underrate the great mistress of the art. But if any one will sit down quietly to consider what Mrs. Gore has done, and how she has done it, he cannot escape having a very exalted opinion of her powers. She has written from sixty to seventy different works, extending to nearly two hundred volumes. Her various publications followed one another with inconceivable rapidity; sometimes at the rate of a volume a month. A catalogue of her books—most of them written at utmost speed—would fill this column. But the most remarkable point of all this fertility is that in the 200 volumes there is scarcely to be found one dull page. Mrs. Gore's wit was inexhaustible. It might not always be of the highest order, but it was certainly not that cheap wit which is obtained in any quantity from the torture of words. Whether she wrote a poem or a play, a novel or a sketch, the composition was always above mediocrity. And then for the matter—it was interesting while it was new, and it will be interesting when it is old. Some future Macaulay will turn to her pages for a perfect picture of life as we find it in the upper crust of society. Every phase of it which it was possible for a woman to handle, she has depicted with a minute fidelity which has all the merit of a first-rate collection of photographs. Her works will often be referred to as those of the best novel writer of her class, and the wittiest woman of her age.

During the conflagration of Canton, caused by the bombardment of the British, the extensive medical warehouse of our countryman, Dr. J. C. Ayer, of Lowell (the depot of his Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills for China), was totally destroyed. He now makes a demand upon our government for indemnity for the loss of his property, and hence will grow another nut to crack with our elder brother Johnny. Stick to it, Doctor; and if our Government maintains our rights wherever your pills are sold, we shall only be unprotected on tracts that are very barren.—Reformer, Trenton, N. J.

PRACTICAL ADVICE TO LADIES.—The first symptoms of disease should never be disregarded. It not removed serious evils will inevitably follow, and in seeking assistance all remedies that will not violently or reduce the strength should be avoided. They, instead of assisting nature, weaken and debilitate those organs. For female complaints, take McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It stands pre-eminent in all diseases peculiar to females. Try it; it is a delicious aromatic Cordial.

"Is it there ye are, old Truepenny?" asks the Washington Star, on seeing the announcement that Mr. Philip C. Clayton had been elected Assistant Secretary of the Treasury of the U. S. A. "Yankee, Yanket, and the probability that his appointment, and the probability that the Star thinks an illustration of the way in which old rats ensconce themselves in new cheese.

CONGRESSIONAL.

XXXVTH CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.

SENATE.—Mr. King presented a number of petitions, signed by thousands of persons, in favor of the Constitution, as it is, and the enforcement of the laws.

The Postoffice Appropriation Bill was taken up.

The amendment of the Committee on Finance being under consideration, by consent, Mr. Crittenden, from the Select Committee on the propositions adopted by the Peace Conference, offered a report recommending the adoption of that proposition.

Mr. Seward said that the Senator from Illinois (Trumbull) and himself formed a minority on that Committee, and wished to submit a substitute, but the majority thought it was not expedient; so he asked leave to submit a joint resolution in his own name, in which the Senator from Illinois concurred, that

Whereas, the Legislatures of Kentucky, Illinois, and New Jersey have appealed to Congress to call a Convention for proposing amendments to the Constitution, therefore,

Resolved, That the other States be invited to take the subject under consideration, and to express their will on the subject to Congress, in pursuance of the fifth article of the Constitution.

Mr. Hale objected to the consideration of the report to-day.

Mr. Doolittle said that it was a mistake that Wisconsin had sent delegates to the Convention. He had a proviso which, at the proper time, he should offer to the first section of the amendment proposed by the Convention, to the effect, and on the express condition, that no State, or any part thereof, heretofore admitted or hereafter admitted, shall have power to withdraw from the United States, and that the Constitution be the supreme law of the land, anything contained in any State or Legislature to the contrary notwithstanding.

The report and amendments and joint resolution were ordered to be printed and laid over.

Mr. Trumbull presented the credentials of Mr. Lane, Senator elect from Indiana.

Mr. Trumbull reported from the Committee appointed to wait upon the President and Vice President elect.

Mr. Lincoln said: "With deep gratitude to my countrymen for these marks of confidence, and with great mistrust on my part to discharge the duty, even in favorable circumstances, now rendered doubly difficult by the existing national peril, but, with a firm reliance on the strength of our free Government and the ultimate loyalty of the people to the just principles of which it is formed, and above all, with unchanging faith in the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, I accept this trust, and shall be pleased to signify my acceptance to the respective Houses of Congress."

Mr. Hamlin said: Please communicate to the two Houses of Congress my acceptance of the trust confided in me by a generous people, and while the position was neither sought nor desired, I am truly gratified for the confidence reposed in me, and deeply sensible of the obligation imposed, it shall be my effort to discharge my duty in such a manner as shall subserve the interests of the whole country.

Mr. Mason offered an amendment to the Postoffice bill, changing the Butterfield Route, and providing for a mail by the Central Route to California and the Pony Express for $115,000.

One o'clock arrived.

A discussion arose whether the report of the Select Committee was in order.

Messrs. Hale and Fessenden argued against it, and Mr. Crittenden replied to Mr. Fessenden, saying the Senator had no right to characterize anything he said as proscription.

Mr. Crittenden—You did, sir, if I understood you.

Mr. Fessenden—Well, sir, I did not; but the Senator can hear as he pleases.

Mr. Crittenden moved towards Mr. Fessenden's desk, with his back to the Chair. Going close to Mr. Fessenden, he said: "Your conversation was inaudible in the gallery."

The Chair called the Senators to order.

The resolutions were taken up—26 to 23. Mr. Hale objected to their going to a third reading, and they were made the special order for 12 o'clock to-morrow.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the Postoffice bill.

Mr. Wilson's amendment was adopted—21 against 14.

On motion of Mr. Gwin the amendment was reduced to $100,000 by a vote of 29 against 14.

The Senate, by a vote of 25 against 14, went into Executive Session.

The Senate, after the Executive session, resumed the consideration of the Postoffice bill.

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. Hale offered an amendment, that the Postmaster General refund Franklin Haven the amount deposited in the Boston Post-office matter. Agreed to.

After further consideration the bill passed.

The bill relative to the distribution of books and reports of the Supreme Court, &c., was passed.

A bill donating land in Oregon and Minnesota for school purposes, passed.

Several private bills passed.

Adjourned.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Postmaster General was this morning advised by telegraph from Fort Smith, that the overland mail was stopped by the Indians, and taken by the Texans, as has been reported.

The postmaster at Madison, Florida, is using domestic manufactured postage stamps contrary to law. The Department here has been furnished with a specimen.

The Select Committee of Five on the President's special message, in their report on general subjects, argue against the doctrine of secession, and assert the duty of centralizing the powers of the Government, to enforce the laws over every part of the country with military, if the civil authority is insufficient.

Cochrane and Branch dissent.

Gen. Twigg has been stricken from the army roll as a coward and traitor.

The Select Committee on the abstraction of books by members of Congress, report that they regard the entire charge as being groundless.

The ablest speech we heard during the recent canvass for President, was made by Joshua F. Bullitt, Esq. He is now prominently spoken of as a suitable candidate for the office of Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals. We would vote for him if he lived in his district, certain.—Cynthiana News.

The following appears as a communication in the Nashville Democrat:

"There She Blows, There She Blows." "She is in her 'burry," and no mistake. How the blood flies! keep cool boys! lay on your oars! she will soon wear herself out!"

[Ocean Scenes.]

Go it, old Snuff, (Jeff. Davis.) Are you mad? Have you gone beside yourself, that you show your hand thus early in the game? I have read, with scorn and contempt, the outburst of your treasonable soul at Stevenson, and can hardly be brought to believe that any portion of the people of this land could stand and listen to such an outburst as they say you uttered there. Is it possible that a heart so black beats in the bosom of an American born citizen?

Where were the hemp and the hangerman when you talked about carrying war where it is easy to advance, where food for the sword and the torch await your armies.

Sir, the arm of retribution is on you trail; God is just; his vengeance, though slow, is sure to meet you! "The sword and the torch!" Madman, if I had thee on shipboard, thy neck should know the strength of an eighteen thread ratlin. I would hang thee like Parker the mutineer, to the fore yard-arm with a yellow flag to look at.

My countrymen, what are we about, that treason stalks naked and unrebuked among us? Where are we drifting, with traitors at the wheel? Awake or we are lost forever.

"The Sword and the Torch!" Would-be Attila, let me tell you, the first shot from your ranks is your death knell, and that of the Gulf States, over whose destinies you and the Montgomery clique hold power by usurpation. Have you heard the voice of Tennessee? Why man, it is a congested chill from the South, and the writing on the wall for traitors everywhere.

Will you heed it? If not, let me tell you, when you lift your arm against 18,000,000 of free people, living, as you say, in "cities and towns" which it took years of industry and millions of money "to build," I say, when you and your fellow madmen lift your arm against these, your brothers and sisters—"bone of your bone," "flesh of your flesh"—you sign the death warrant to the prosperity of the Gulf States and their institutions; you inaugurate a system of wholesale abolition, and carry out the dearest wishes of the most ultra madmen of the North, and you know it.

Yes, you and your clique know it; but like the frightened buffalo, you shut your eyes, and rush headlong over the precipice to certain ruin.

Go out to war! Oh, yes, go out! Get hot, mad, raving mad! Everybody go, and leave at home one million, seven hundred and fifty thousand black fire-brands, to be played with by every incendiary that comes along—to know your weakness and their strength to burn your fields, your barns, your dwellings, your cotton and cotton gins! To butcher your wives and your children; and to make utter desolation where peace and comfort now dwell! To render accursed the very names of Davis and Rhett, Yancey and Pickens, Stevens and Secession, and all concerned therein. To make the name of Southern Congress and Confederacy synonymous with blood, murder, desolation, and unmitigated ruin; and last, though not least, to see those very negroes, about which all this ruin has been brought about, butchered in every field; on every hill; by every stream, for insurrection! This will be done by the Union working men. They will be your last forlorn hope. They will have to crush out servile war at your firesides, so that you, after defeat and disappointment in every form, may crawl home and die at peace among the fragments of your family Altars. This will be the end of your plottings. Remember St. Domingo; read its history.

Workmen of the Gulf States, where are you? What are you doing? Has dumbness fallen on you? 'Tis time to speak! 'Tis time to work, or are you slaves forever. Is there not a Golden Age among you? Why don't the rocks speak for you? You are American citizens. You have wives and mothers, and fathers, and sons and daughters. Are you afraid to speak? Are you such cowards that to save your own lives, you will lose all that makes life bearable? If so, were I a wife of such a man, no child would I bear him. No! I would not mother a WHITE SLAVE!

Speak out, free workmen, whilst you may awake! Fear not! God is with you. Tennessee is with you. The world is with you; and the flag of our Union never failed to protect any who sought protection under its folds. Seize tyranny by the throat, and hurl it from the land, as you would a basilisk from the bosom of your mother. Hoist the Stars and Stripes any where and every where. Speak! speak! and you are again free. What part or lot have you in the Southern Congress? Did you vote for it? Who made your President and Vice-President? Did you do it? Who gave them power to rule over you with a "rod of iron"? To tear down that flag which led your fathers in triumph, victory, and cast it to the "rocks and bats"? To tax you to death, and then thrust war and desolation upon you? What hand had you, workmen, in all this? You called a Convention; that Convention chained you. Resist its acts while you may and can, or your liberty is like Prometheus chained to the rock of eternal undying misery and servitude.

Workmen of the Gulf States, awake! Take the stump boldly, defiantly, and you are safe. Look at Tennessee! Her name is immortal! Her war cry was, "Working-men, to the rescue!" Their arm saved her, and the union of the border States. Up and do likewise! You will conquer, and thus save this whole Union. "Resist the Devil, and he will flee from you!" Pitch in at once for there is no time to lose! The hand of grace thus Nero is on you.

DI NAUMKAE.

Here is a hit at mean people, in Dr. Holmes' new work, "Elsie Venner," brought in to illustrate the character of a certain Silas Peckham, principal of a rural seminary (the Apollonian Institute) in a New England village. We italicise a rich sentence:

A mean man never agrees to anything without deliberately turning it over, so that he may see it dirty side, and, if he can, sweating the coin he pays for it. If an archangel should offer to save his soul for sixpence, he would try to find a sixpence with a hole in it.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 28.

The City Council last night adopted unanimously a resolution expressing confidence in the patriotism and ability of Hon. John J. Crittenden, regretting the close of his public career, and inviting him as he returns home to accept the hospitality of this city, and address our citizens.

A resolution was also adopted, extending the same invitation to the Hon. Andrew Johnson.

A Striking Rebuke.

We do not know when we have seen a more just and keen rebuke than the following mainly retort from the Nashville Patriot:

We understand that one of our iron houses has been notified by its New Orleans correspondent that a duty of 24 per cent will hereafter be collected on Tennessee iron in that city. It is a wonder the gallant city did not collect a tax of 24 per cent. on Tennessee muskets in 1815!

It did lay a tax of $1000 on the glorious Tennessee chief, but the nation would not permit the indignity to remain where the perennial laurel should alone crown the hero.

[Cin. Times.]

A SHOT BETWEEN WIND AND WATER.—The Nashville Banner is responsible for the following cockedigger:

"The disunionists are shedding crocodile tears over the humiliating spectacle of a President slipping through Baltimore in disguise to avoid assassination. Heaven knows we never felt any sympathy for Mr. Lincoln or his party, but we should like to know if he exhibited any more contemptible or inexcusable cowardice than his seceding fellow-countrymen of the South did, in running away from him before he ever got into power? Now, we don't believe a word of this cock and bull story about 'the President elect in disguise!'—but we should like to know which was the most cowardly procedure?"

APPRAY.—The Standford Herald learns that, on last Sunday evening, two men made an attack on an old man named James, at his residence, a few miles below Waynesburg, Ky. The assailants in this instance, however, found that the triumph is not always for the strong, as the old gentleman stopped one of them by lodging the contents of an old "blunderbuss" in his side, inflicting a painful but not dangerous wound. The other assailant, while trying to effect an entrance into the house of Mr. James, was met at the door by his wife, who dashed a quantity of hot water in his face, scalding it quite severely.

JAILER REINSTATED.—Sometime ago the County Court of Mercer county demanded the keys of the county jailer, because some prisoners had made their escape. Mr. Lowe, the jailer, gave up the keys. Another gentleman, Mr. Grider, was appointed in his stead. Mr. Lowe took the case up to the Court of Appeals, and the decision of the Mercer Court was reversed, and the old jailer reinstated.

Great Rejoicing.

RISEING SUN, IND., Feb. 23.
The news of the passage of the compromise measures by the Peace Conference and Corwin's resolutions by the House to-day, was received by our citizens with great manifestations of joy. A salute of 24 guns was fired, and all the bells of the city were rung.

WILMINGTON, N. C. Feb. 23.
Three precincts in New Hanover give 881 majority for a convention. Other precincts will increase the majority. Brunswick has gone secession. Three precincts in Dublin give 471 majority for a convention. Wayne gives 1,000 majority for secession. Wake county, including Raleigh, gives 1,000 for Union.

RALEIGH, Feb. 23.
The Union ticket gets 712, secession 81; for Convention 220, against it 540. Partial returns from other precincts show a similar result.

NEW IDEA OF COMMITTING A NUISANCE.—"Sir," said a young gentleman who had been taken into custody for disorderly conduct, to the magistrate, "has a man got a right to commit a nuisance?"

"No, sir," replied the magistrate.

"Then, sir, I must be set free. I was arrested as a nuisance; and as nobody has a right to commit me, I claim to be set at liberty."

PROOFS OF NEARNESS TO HEAVEN.—A recent poem thus significantly ends a stanza: "There came a young man in excellent clothes, With ringlets ambrosial and Apolline nose, Personification of earthly repose. Oh! he's a dear, Just too sweet to live here, She didn't think heaven was half so near."

J. H. JOHNSON, Editor.

MONDAY, MARCH 4, 1861.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—We do not publish communications, either in verse or prose, unless we know the real name of the author. This rule will not be departed from. "Ligeia" will understand, &c.

The 4th of March A. D. 1861.

This day completes the most disastrous Presidential term which it has ever been the fate of these United States to have witnessed; and although the President who is to be inaugurated to-day is looked upon with aversion by the readers of this paper, yet the disgust inspired by his predecessor is so thorough as almost to prepare the country to submit without murmur to anything which an angry heaven may inflict upon it, so it gives a relief from the imbecile old man, who takes his departure for Wheatland to-day. There is nothing in all history more melancholy than the cortege which will wind its way from the White House, this 4th day of March. Not George III in his old age, and in his blindness and with his reason gone, after having dismembered his empire by his obstinacy and his folly; not Boabdil el Chico, as he stood upon the summit of the Alpujarras and gave "the last sigh of the Moor" toward the beautiful palaces of Grenada which he had lost forever by his weakness; not even Lear, in the touching action of the singer of Avon, as he wanders forth in the piteous storm from the home of his ingrate daughters, appeals more powerfully to the feelings of the philanthropist, than does the situation of the poor old man, who this day leaves the chair he has so unworthily filled for the last four years. If he has a spark of sensibility left to his callous conscience, he must reflect upon the prosperity of the country upon his induction into office—a land smiling with peace and plenty; with coffers filled to repletion, and a credit commanding a high premium in all the markets of the world; with a commerce that whitened every sea with the richest argosies, and penetrated the most distant islands of ocean with its energy; with harvests of such abundance as to feed and clothe the redundant millions of the old world; a peaceful refuge for the oppressed of every clime; with railroads sufficient to girdle the earth at the equator with an unbroken track, and telegraphs and schools and all the material prosperity with which Heaven ever blessed a bounteous land. Such is but a faint conception of the aspect of our country on that memorable 4th of March, 1857, that inaugurated the Presidency of James Buchanan; and such will his memory bring back to him as he gazes upon that magnificent Capitol which he may never see again, but which may yet be deluged in blood by fratricidal war caused if not by his reasonable designs, by his imbecility and weakness.

Let us by contrast see what is the condition of our beloved country on this other inaugural day, and as it must appear to him departing. The confederacy is dismembered, and in the stead of our mighty empire, beloved at home and respected abroad, we have a provisional government at the South and warring factions tearing the vitals of the republic; many brave officers of the army thinking treason to the General Government a patriotism to the States; a dominant party refusing all concession and compromise, and seizing the reins of government as a remorseless enemy would seize a conquered province; all commerce suspended; all credit destroyed; all confidence annihilated; a bankrupt Treasury; a deficient revenue, and a moral obliquity settling on the minds of men, and we seem to be fulfilling the "abomination of desolation," spoken of by Daniel the prophet, and near that time when we should "see to the mountains, for surely great affliction awaiteth this people."

GEN. TWIGGS.—The telegraph informs us that the name of Gen. Twiggs has been stricken from the army roll as that of "a coward and traitor."

Gen. Twiggs basely surrendered his command to the Texas secessionists, and handed over all the government property, amounting in value to millions of dollars, to his captors. He committed this act of palpable treason after he knew that he had been superseded by Gen. Waide in command of the Texas forces. It could not have been cowardice, because at the time there was not a man under arms in the service of the secessionists.

ADVANTAGE OF ADVERTISING.—Our readers will recollect that Col. Garrard, our State Treasurer, in paying off the members of the Legislature, paid out by mistake one hundred and twenty-four dollars too much. He notified the members of the fact through the newspapers, and in a short time had a hundred dollar bill returned to him. A member after returning home saw the advertisement, and counting his money found the $100 bill joined in close communion with a ten. We trust the Colonel will yet get the odd twenty-four.

MORAL.—Advertise freely and you will get a hundred dollar bill in some shape or other.

"Mrs. Lincoln told Colonel Gittings, with whom she dined, that her husband was determined to pursue a conservative course."

Now, if the world only knew the female idea of conservative, the world might feel better, and then it might not.

THE OLD NORTH STATE.—The returns received indicate that the people of North Carolina have voted against secession by an overwhelming majority.

How they Revolutionized Texas.

We are permitted to publish the following from a reliable citizen of Texas, to a distinguished gentleman of this city. It gives an insight into the modus operandi of the secession farce:

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Feb. 9, 1861.
Dear Sir: So far everything has been carried by force or fraud, regardless of laws and the Constitution. Yet we shall now contest every inch of ground; and if we had time to canvass the State could save it from following into treasonable rebellion at the tail of the old Tory State of South Carolina.

The legislature will adjourn to-day, to meet again the 18th of March. I wish to give you a few facts showing how our present dangerous and disreputable condition was effected. Let our friends in Tennessee and Kentucky read:

1. We have 122 counties.
2. There was neither a constitutional nor legal call made for the Convention, but some sixty persons met and called upon the people to elect delegates.
3. You will see by the printed address sent you, which is signed by many of our most prominent citizens, that nearly half the counties held no election, and were wholly unrepresented, and in many others only a few votes were polled, partial notices only being given, and the whole proceeding considered illegal and unconstitutional.

4. I give a few instances of counties holding no election: 1st. Old Nacogdoches, the late residence of Gen. Bush, with 1,023 legal voters. 2d. Lamar, with 1,233 voters. 3d. Blanco, with 1,139 voters. 4th. Cherokee, with 1,044 voters. 5th. Fannin, with 1,183 voters, &c.

5. The following counties were represented: 1st. Anderson, with 1,093 voters; only 337 voted. 2d. Bastrop, 769 voters; 153 voted. 3d. Collin, 1,119 voters; 211 voted. 4th. Grayson, 1,217; 280 voted. 5th. Hays, 296 voters; 67 voted. 6th. Jackson, 296 voters; 40 voted. 7th. Lampasas, 285 voters; 50 voted. 8th. Red River, 879 voters; 60 voted. 9th. Travis, 1,011 voters; 342 voted. With this county, you will remember, has Austin within its limits.

This mob Convention, 1st, passed an ordinance of secession; 2d, sent commissioners to the Montgomery Congress; 3d, passed a law to have an election, without sufficient time given to notify half the voters of the State, and then adjourned to meet again on the 24th day of March—only one week after the proposed election. Now, with our immense territory, in mid winter, with few mail facilities, and no telegraph lines, every man, not an idiot, looks upon the whole matter as a base fraud upon the people. A few restless and reckless political pirates are thus plunging our Empire State into revolution and ruin.

We mentioned some days since that an interesting meeting had been in progress for some two weeks in the Presbyterian church in this city. The meeting has been continued, at night, to this time, with a short intermission this week, and there has been a very decided and deep religious feeling, not only on the part of Christians, but great anxiety and feeling among non-professors. Up to this time (Saturday evening) we learn that twenty-six persons have joined the church on profession of faith in Christ, and there are a number of others who are still anxiously concerned, who are expected to unite with the church in a few days.

The faithful Pastor (Rev. B. T. Lacy) has been assisted in his labors by Rev. Messrs. McKee and Robinson, of Louisville, Rev. R. G. Brank, of Lexington, and Rev. J. R. Hendrick, of this city. We hear on all hands high encomiums upon the sermons preached during the meeting, for their plain, practical, and forcible presentation of truth. Such preaching is not often enjoyed by any people, as that to which the congregations attending those services have listened. We hope this good work may go on and extend to other churches in our city.

John M. Harlan, Esq.
We find the following in the Louisville Journal of Saturday:

We have great pleasure in announcing that the Hon. W. F. Bullock and John M. Harlan, Esq., have formed a partnership in the law, to practice in all the Courts held in Louisville, in the Court of Appeals and Federal Court at Frankfort, and in the adjoining counties of Shelby, Henry, Oldham, Spencer, and Bullitt. In order to carry out this arrangement, Judge Bullock will devote himself exclusively to professional business, and Mr. Harlan will remove to Louisville about the 20th of this month. We shall be most happy to receive the latter as a townsman, his high character, eminent ability, and devotion to business will ensure him friends and clients, while the experience, deep legal knowledge, and unblemished integrity of Judge B., will command the confidence of the entire community.

The numerous friends of Judge Harlan in this city and in this Congressional District, will regret this step on his part, and part with reluctance with one who is so endeared to them by past associations. We trust, however, that his "new move" may result to his advantage in every way, and that he may reach that high point in the affections and confidence of the people of Louisville, which is universally accorded to him here.

FIRE.—We learn from the Paris Citizen that on the night of the 23d the dwelling of Mr. A. Kimes, in North Middletown, Ky., was consumed by fire, the family barely escaping with their lives. Nothing in the house was saved. The loss is estimated at about $1,500. During the fire a considerable wind prevailed, which rendered it very difficult to prevent the conflagration from spreading.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Monday last a drunken man named Wm. Dalton, attempted to get upon the freight train as it was leaving the station at Kiser's, on the Covington & Lexington Railroad, when he was thrown upon the track and several cars passed over his body, mangling it in a shocking manner and producing instant death.

Anacletus Cricca, a native and citizen of Smyrna, in Turkey, graduated at the Homoeopathic College of Medicine in St. Louis on Tuesday.

All the Louisville papers say: "Hail gentle spring." G. S., Don't you do any such thing. Leave that performance for winter.

IMPORTANT SUIT.—We learn from the Knoxville Whig that suit was decided in the Circuit Court at Knoxville, Tenn., involving the large amount of $340,000. The suit was brought by Messrs. Lyon and Ramsey, Trustees of the Bank of East Tennessee, against George W. Churchwell, upon certain Stock notes, upon which the Bank was founded, when it first went into operation under said Churchwell. The cause was argued on behalf of the Trustees by Messrs. Crozier and Trigg, and for the defendant by Messrs. Haynes and Sneed. The cause is said to have been argued with ability, pro and con, though we heard but little of it, and nothing of the evidence.

The jury returned a verdict in favor of the Trustees; and although they will not be able to make one-fourth of the amount out of the estate, it will enable the Trustees, as far as it goes, to aid in redeeming the issues of the Bank, in the suits recovered against the Trustees.

THE CINCINNATI DAILY PRESS.—This spiritless sheet, devoted mainly to women and preachers, in its issue of the 1st, says:

On Monday we shall enlarge the Daily Press to a size about that of the Daily Times, of which the edition to-morrow will be a specimen number; and shall publish it daily—Sundays excepted—at ten cents a week. We make this enlargement to enable us to furnish such a paper as the wants of our readers require, and to furnish scope for the editorial force engaged on the Press, and in accordance with the expression of a great number of our friends and readers.

The Press is a very Readable paper, and will bear enlarging, but whether its editorial talent will be any better for being spread out wider, remains to be seen.

NEW PAPER.—We have received the first number of a neat little daily, published at Paducah, entitled The Union. It is published by R. B. J. Twyman, Esq., and devoted to the preservation of the Union of the States. Paducah has long needed a conservative journal that would represent her interest. From the well known ability of Mr. Twyman, we risk nothing in saying that the Union cause will find a powerful ally in the "Daily Union." We wish it great success.

The Seceders are now trying to blacken the character of General Scott. They endeavor to do it by heaping upon him foul words. Their blackguardism has the same effect upon the character of the old General that charcoal dust does upon silver—leaving it brighter. If they succeed at all it will be by bringing General Scott's character in contact with their own.

COTTON CURRENCY.—It is thought that the Cotton Confederacy will issue a cotton currency. An ordinary bale of cotton will be worth fifty dollars, and be diminished in size until they come down to five cent balls. That would be convenient for the ladies, for they would always have their purse about their persons.

POSTMASTER AT SHELBYVILLE, KY.—Mr. Ellingwood and those who procured his appointment as Postmaster at Shelbyville, Ky., over a Douglas Democrat, Mr. R. R. Russell, were somewhat surprised the other day on learning that the said Ellingwood was displaced from office. Wm. Standford, Esq., has been appointed Postmaster at Shelbyville.

Who Bids?—The cotton confederacy has authorized a loan of $15,000,000 at 8 per cent. The next thing is for them to get the money. We cannot let them have it on account of the active part Jeff. Davis took in the Mississippi bond business.

If Lincoln attempts coercion, we suppose the Cotton Confederacy will become the gun cotton Confederacy.

If there are forty counties, in the State of Kentucky bordering on the Ohio river, that will give an overwhelming majority against secession, how many are there in the interior that will follow suit?

Couldn't some intelligent admirer of the rattlesnake give us an answer.

[Cynthiana News.]

TO CONSUMPTIVES AND THOSE AFFLICTED WITH DYSPESIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, HEART DISEASE, FEVER AND AGUE, OR CONSTIPATION.—The undersigned, now seventy-five years old, has for years devoted his time to curing his Parishioners and the poor in New York of these dreadful complaints, which carry thousands and thousands to an untimely grave; he has seldom failed to cure all who have applied to him for relief, and believing it to be a Christian's duty to relieve those abroad, as well as at home, he will send to those who require it, a Copy of Prescriptions used, (free of charge), with directions for preparing and using the same. Also rules on Diet, Bathing, Ventilation, and Exercise for the Sick; they will find these remedies, a sure cure for Consumption, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Fever and Ague, Constipation, Heart Disease, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, and Female Complaints, and he hopes every one afflicted will send for a copy, as it will cost nothing, and these Prescriptions should apply before it is too late. These Prescriptions are used by the most eminent Physicians in London, Paris, and New York. Those wishing them will please address REV. DR. CHAMBERLAIN, dec21 ly. Williamsburg, New York.

COUGHS. The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL, AND ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS AND SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement. nov26-w&tw which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and Benefit and Health to your Infants.

We have just put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—never how it failed in a single instance to effect a cure, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of the highest commendation of its magical effects and medicinal virtues. We speak in this matter "what we do know" after ten years experience and pledge our reputation for the fulfillment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the Syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England, and has been used with NEVER-FAILING SUCCESS in

THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels, and Wind Colic, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, and in death. We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY the world in ALL cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHEA in CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child in this matter "what we do know" after ten years experience and pledge our reputation for the fulfillment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the Syrup is administered.

FRANKFORT AGENCY

OF THE

New York Life Insurance Company.

A meeting of the Local Directors of the New York Life Insurance Company, held in the city of Frankfort, Ky., December 4th, 1858, the following was unanimously adopted:

The undersigned, President and Directors of the Company, have examined the report and exhibit of the New York Life Insurance Company for the half year ending July 1st, 1858, and being satisfied with its prosperous condition, cordially recommend it to the encouragement and support of the community.

The New York Life Insurance Company has been in existence fourteen years, its capital has attained the sum of $1,500,000.

Invested in State stocks, bonds and mortgages on real estate.

We think it a most safe and profitable mode of investing money. The profits accrue to the benefit of the insured, and have averaged not less than 30 per cent. per annum on the premium paid.

Besides these investments in stock, &c., the law of New York requires as additional security, that $100,000 shall be deposited with the State Comptroller, to meet any lawful demands which the Company may fail to pay.

We invite attention to the nature, objects, and advantages of Life Insurance, as set forth by this Institution.

It will be seen by the above statement that this Company is in a flourishing condition. These desirable of information in regard to the subject of Life Insurance, would do well to call on the Local Agent of the above Company, who will give them any information that may be desired, or for references apply to either member of the Local Board, all of whom are insured in this office.

FRANKFORT AGENCY

OF THE

New York Life Insurance Company.

A meeting of the Local Directors of the New York Life Insurance Company, held in the city of Frankfort, Ky., December 4th, 1858, the following was unanimously adopted:

The undersigned, President and Directors of the Company, have examined the report and exhibit of the New York Life Insurance Company for the half year ending July 1st, 1858, and being satisfied with its prosperous condition, cordially recommend it to the encouragement and support of the community.

The New York Life Insurance Company has been in existence fourteen years, its capital has attained the sum of $1,500,000.

Invested in State stocks, bonds and mortgages on real estate.

We think it a most safe and profitable mode of investing money. The profits accrue to the benefit of the insured, and have averaged not less than 30 per cent. per annum on the premium paid.

Besides these investments in stock, &c., the law of New York requires as additional security, that $100,000 shall be deposited with the State Comptroller, to meet any lawful demands which the Company may fail to pay.

We invite attention to the nature, objects, and advantages of Life Insurance, as set forth by this Institution.

It will be seen by the above statement that this Company is in a flourishing condition. These desirable of information in regard to the subject of Life Insurance, would do well to call on the Local Agent of the above Company, who will give them any information that may be desired, or for references apply to either member of the Local Board, all of whom are insured in this office.

C. S. MOREHEAD, President.
